For Immediate Release:

Free summer camps at Camp Red Cedar for children with type 1 diabetes and children with developmental disabilities

Thanks to a grant from the AWS Foundation, Camp Red Cedar, a 57-acre summer camp and horseback riding facility just north of Fort Wayne, has funds available to enable children with type 1 diabetes and children with developmental disabilities to attend a week of summer day camp, free of charge.

Immediate day camp openings for children with type 1 diabetes for next week, June 24-28.

Other openings are for children ages 6 – 21 with developmental disabilities (not receiving waiver funding) to attend day camp the following weeks:

- June 24-28
- July 1-5
- July 22-26

Camp Red Cedar is a fully accessible facility where campers of all abilities participate in swimming, boating, arts and crafts, sports and field games, horseback riding, karate and a variety of activities.

For more information about Camp Red Cedar or to register for camp, visit our website at www.campredcedar.com. Call (260) 637-3608 with any questions.

Camp Red Cedar is a division of AWS and shares its mission of helping children and adults with disabilities live as independently as possible, be included in the community and function at their maximum potential. The 57-acre camp is a CARF accredited (Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities) and a Premier PATH (Professional Association of Therapeutic Horsemanship International) certified therapeutic horseback riding facility.
